Skuggaheri - Schattenherr - The Bad Guys

- Similar to
 - Imperium (Star Wars)
 - Team Rocket (Pokemon world)
- There should be a faction with a name and one big boss that controls every part
 - like a general
 - maybe he has supernatural powers
- Throughout the story there will be
 - many generic nameless low-tier bad guys
 - some higher-tier bad guys
 - should have names to be able to be referenced in other sagas/stories

Rules

- Bad guys do not have super powers
- except the General and some henchmen that are given powers from the general?
 - but "giving powers" should have some negative side effect or else why would he not give every one powers
 - maybe it takes away powers from the General himself until the person dies (?) or can he also take the powers back?
 - remotly? only when in close proximity?

Subfactions

The Renegades

Dr. Dr. Phasor - the Renegade created a sub faction of renegades.

They do not work for the bad guys any more.

As generic army enemies there are robots (like elite soldiers) that are more advanced than low-tier bad guys.

Nitas / Aesiris - Übermenschlich - The Supernatural

- Known in different cultures as many different names
 - Gods = Nita
 - Angels = Aesiris (plural), Aesiri (singular)
 - Mesiha, Felagi, Apprentice of Aesiri beings
- Homeworld is Dingir Erimas
- Known in their own culture as
 - XXX
- These beings are the reason for magic to exist, that's why the General wants to eradicate all of them.
 - The general is aware that this also means that he will lose his magic powers
- In rare cases they take an apprentice which they call Felagi
 - Only one Felagi per supernatural being?
 - Similar to Moon Knight (Marvel Comics)
 - Konshu (Egyptian god) who grants supernatural powers to Moon Knight
 - Maybe once the Nitas give power to a Felagi they can only grant powers again once the Felagi dies
 - Maybe the bad General once was a Felagi and received powers from multiple Nitas
 - maybe the Nitas saw potential as he was a good person but the power corrupted him and he became too powerful
 - the Nitas then decided that no mortal being should ever receive more than one power ever again

Ijoshi - Lichttheer - The Good Guys

- Some have super powers, some are using tools / machines with special (quantum) powers, not "magic".
- Chosen ones are guided by the Super natural beings Nitas or Aesiris.

Enkias - The non-magic fanatics

- Group of people that are strictly against using magic
 - some people accept magic but avoid it
 - still friendly to magic users
 - some are fanatics that are aggressive towards magic users
 - some even go so far to kill and hunt down magic users
 - similar to Samuel L. Jackson in Jumper
- As magic only exists in the Quantum World world they only can exist there?
 - maybe as portals open to the human world the non-magic believe spreads also to the human world?
 - e.g. to higher up bad guys as the General is probably a fanatic non-magic

Marcel's notes:

This faction hates all beings with special powers.

They obey one or more gods, and say that mortal beings shall not have such powers.

They hunt everyone with super natural power, no matter where.

People outside their organization are not allowed to create super natural machines nor tools.

They also hunt such people and force them into the organization,... otherwise they get liquidated.

But what they use to be able to defeat such super power beings are high-tech tools with "super natural powers".

Nobody knows where this organization comes from.

It seems not only humans are in this organization, but in many other species, and in several galaxies and universes.

People leaving the organization will be hunt.... they might switch to the "good faction" to survive
